Survey Highlights Universities with Best Masters in Tax Programs

-Tax Professionals Reveal the Top Masters in Tax Programs-

Mount Pleasant, SC — TaxTalent, the largest online network for tax professionals announced today the top Masters in Tax programs in the United States, based on a survey of over 3000 professionals who hold a Masters in Tax. The results published today are the first in a two-part survey. The second part will survey Chief Corporate Tax Officers to assess what schools they believe have the best MS Tax programs.

According to TaxTalent president Tony Santiago, the two-part survey will provide scholastic and corporate data rarely combined on behalf of the tax profession. "Our initial results are based on current tax professionals with a Masters degree," said Santiago. "Our follow-up survey in the New Year will canvass top tax employers to reveal their choices for best Masters in Tax and LLM Tax programs. The results will indicate the most successful Graduate Tax programs from both students' and employers' perspectives, particularly when a school is rated highly in both surveys."
